

JUST PRACTICING. This marvelous horse performed this jumping stunt at the Colorado State Fair during an exhibition of trained equines. The canvas tank was deep enough to avoid accident.

GOING BACK TO LONDON. Madam Delysia, the noted French actress, aboard the Adriatic, after a New York engagement. Note the diamond ankle bracelet.

MOUNT VESUVIUS AGAIN RAGES. Cable reports of the last few days indicate that the great volcano is again spouting forth flames, lava and gas. This photograph was taken a few weeks ago.

TO INSURE GERMAN VICTORY. The woman, eighty-five years old, who could not walk, was carried to the polls in the Silesian plebiscite, held recently.

GOING TO EUROPE. Miss Jean Fletcher, daughter of Andrew Fletcher, the railroad magnate, leaving New York.

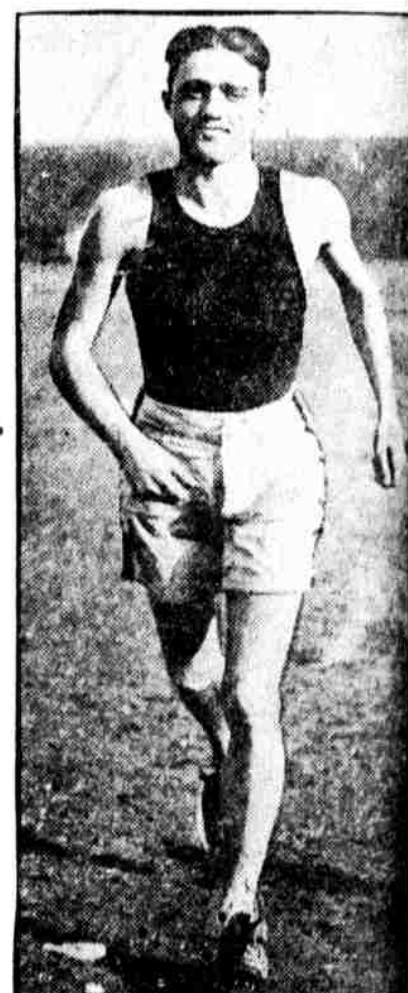

IN MILK FAIRY PLAY. It was given yesterday afternoon, following a session of the Philadelphia Interstate Dairy Council, by these children of the S. Weir Mitchell School. In the group are Emily Carr, Helen Jones, Blanche Sackendorff, Kathryn Burke and Nancy Cather. Margaret Boyd (right) as Johnnie, was a star of the production.

ENGLISH GIRLS AT LACROSSE. The Princess Helena College and the Chelsea School fight for honors at Ealing, near London.

ARBOR DAY ACTIVITIES. Although the work was started a few days ago, Fairmount Park Commission employees were keeping the day to its fullest meaning by unloading and planting trees in the park at the north side of City Hall.

TRAINING AT PENN. George Meredith, a brother of Ted, is preparing for the intercollegiate game.

JURY AT PEIRCE SCHOOL AWARDS JACK JINGLE PRIZE. The instructor and eleven members of the salesmanship course at the 1420 Pine street institute selected kiddie's winning line. From left to right (seated), James K. Wheatley, William J. Woelfel, John M. Perry, C. Maurice Hall, Wallace R. Reed; (standing), Henry Gillingham, Carroll Rosson, Harold A. Walters, Alvin C. Krinkel (instructor), P. Devereux, James A. Dawson and Russell Underkofler.

GEORGE F. HOFFMAN talks on success in life in an interview on the Editorial Page.

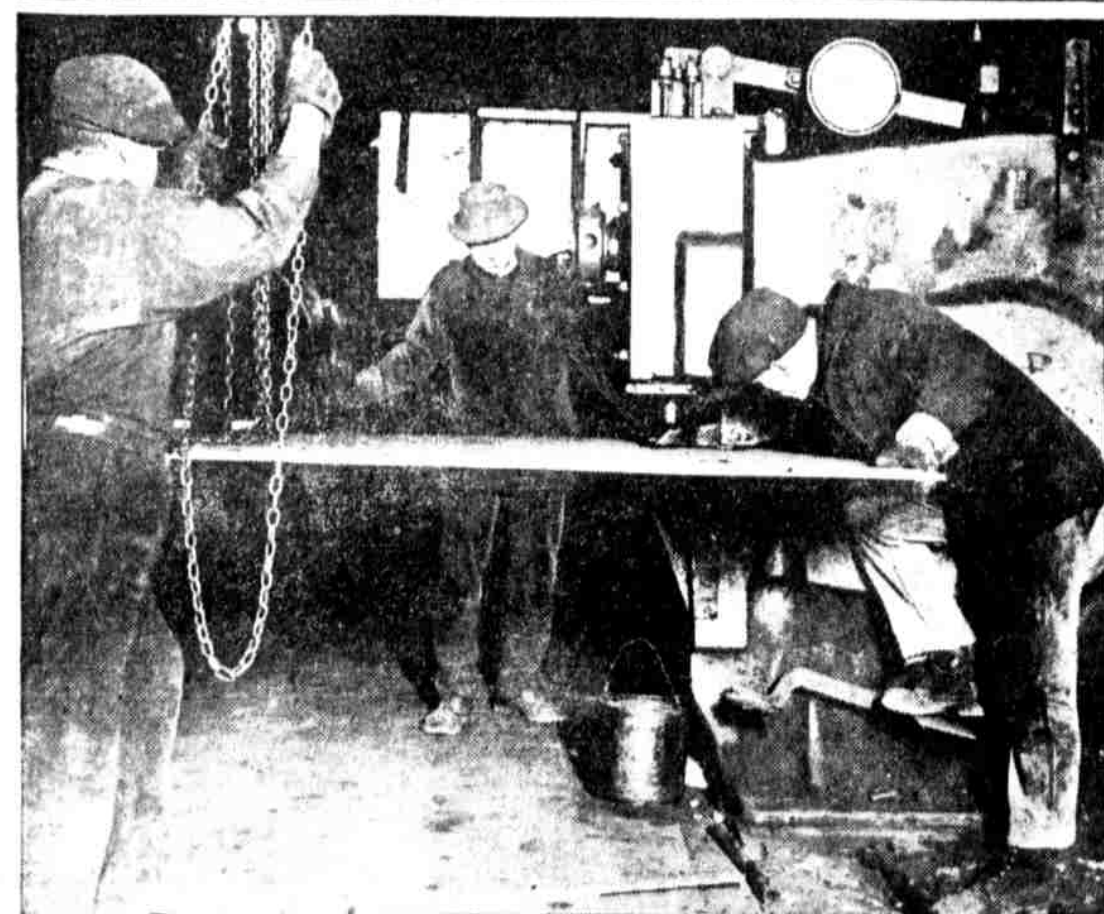

EX-SERVICE MEN PICK WINNER. These jurymen in the limerick contest study at the Lip Reading School, 1606 Locust street. They are, left to right, first row, Christopher Crawford, John L. Falvey, Harry E. Morrow, Charles Myers; second row, Robert Young, Dwight Hotchkiss, John L. Phillips.

JAMES COX DAVIS, of Iowa, who has been appointed director general of the United States Railroad Administration.

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

WILLIAM SENEY, 106 Ripka avenue; James Wolfende, 164 Fountain street, and W. J. Mould, East Shawmont avenue, operating a punching machine at the Keystone Boiler Works, 4640-42 Umbria street. Holes are being punched in the heavy plate at the rate of 500 holes an hour.

LORD QUEENBOROUGH returning to England, following a business trip to this country.

HERMAN HARVEY, the acting captain of the Pennsylvania baseball team, is preparing for Swarthmore today.

SEMAPHORE SENTINELS

EIGHT YEARS AT BROAD AND SOUTH PENN SQUARE. Reserve Policeman Joseph D. Griffin is thirty-nine years old and lives at 3227 Rensselaer street. He has been on the force fifteen years.

JUNE LOVE on the rings at Sherwood Recreation Center. The 1st does many good stunts as she swings in the air.

THE BEAUTY CORNER

MISS ROSE SATENSTEIN 1832 North Seventh street Philadelphia.